

[Transcript] Founders / Come see a live show with Me and Patrick O'Shaughnessy!

I want to tell you about a one-time only limited event that I don't think you're going to want to miss.

I am doing a live show with Patrick O'Shaughnessy from the Invest Like the Best podcast in New York City on October 19th.

Patrick has interviewed over 300 of the world's best investors and founders for his podcast.

I've read over 300 biographies of history's greatest entrepreneurs for my podcast.

We'll be talking about what we learned from seven years of podcasting, sharing our favorite ideas and stories, and doing a live Q&A.

There will also be special event-only swag.

If you live in New York City, I think it's a no-brainer.

But if not, I think it's a great excuse to fly in.

I've already heard from a bunch of people that bought tickets, they're flying in from other cities.

Some people are flying in from other countries.

That setting the bar really high, so I will have at least four shots of espresso or four energy drinks before or during the show so we can make it a night that you'll never forget.

If you're interested in attending this unique live event, I will leave a link down below.

I highly recommend you get your tickets today, and I hope I get to see you in New York on October 19th.
