When you want to have fun and have scratchers to scratch, there's a playful way you can do just that.

Scratch with the key or acrylic nail. Scratch with the quail from a porcupine tail.

Use a belt buckle from your friend Lamar. Or scratch with your pick while you play guitar.

You can scratch in a bunch of different playful ways. Scratchers from the California lottery.

A little play can make your day.

Hello, it's Hugo. I hope you're doing well.

Despite the heavy news at the moment, thank you for your trust.

So this is the subject of one of the news of the day.

So, since this surprise attack led this Saturday by Hamas,

this Palestinian movement whose army branch is a terrorist organization,

such as the United States, France or many other countries in the world today,

the bilan keeps going.

The last bilan has more than 1200 deaths and more than 2800 injured on the Israeli side.

This is simply the most deadly attack on Israel,

the Palestinian side following the strikes and the bombing of the Israeli army on the Gaza Strip.

The Ministry of Health of Gaza has more than 1200 deaths and more than 5600 injured.

We've said this a lot these last few days, but there are a lot of civilians on both sides and a bilan keeps going.

And so now, if we come back to our topic today,

last Saturday, Hamas has fired thousands of rockets on Israel.

Fighters from the organization have infiltrated the Israeli soil

by the sea and by the air.

The question is to know how Israel was able to get past such a deadly attack including on many civilians.

Obviously, there are several elements that could try to explain it.

First of all, we must know that on the day of the attack, the Israeli society celebrated the last day of the Jewish party of Sokot.

The country turned to the slowdown, its army too,

since less soldiers were mobilized.

Second thing we can note, to be aware of the potential attacks against Israel, the secret services and the Israeli military have an important network of people in Gaza.

In fact, it is sources that accept to deliver information on possible operations of Hamas in exchange for medical treatment, according to several media.

I'll put the links in the description, I wanted to know more about it.

But in this case, these sources would not have informed the Israelis of this offensive, which makes the Israeli army lack of information.

Third thing we can note is the question of information.

In fact, Israeli intelligence in Gaza, it is a lot founded on electronic surveillance and telephones of people in Gaza.

However, this time, it seems that Hamas managed to play out this electronic surveillance which is operated in a very important way by the Israeli secret services.

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour

Fourth thing now, the Israeli state thought to control the Gaza strip, especially thanks to a separation barrier between the Gaza strip and Israel.

It is a border that is unbreakable, called the iron wall.

In fact, concretely, it is a huge metal barrier and concrete that was built between 2018 and 2021.

It cost more than a billion dollars.

It is also a system that is equipped with radars, cameras or even sensors to prevent all intrusion in Israel.

But obviously, there too, Hamas managed to sabotage the sensors and the cameras, visibly with explosives before penetrating by surprise in Israel.

And last but not least, to better understand the situation, currently in Gaza, including a humanitarian point of view,

I send you back to the video we posted yesterday,

and at the end of the day, including the audio podcast we posted yesterday,

because it was the whole subject of the video yesterday.

Finally, potentially, we must note that Israel might have underestimated Hamas military capabilities which has successfully entered many weapons through tunnels without Israel realizing its offensive.

We can also note that Hamas, and in this case, Israel is aware of it, but Hamas can count on an important support from the Iranian government, which is an enemy sworn by Israel for years.

It is an important support on which Hamas can count today.

And last but not least, since we are talking about foreign power,

according to the Times of Israel newspaper,

an official of the Egyptian intelligence services would have warned the Israelis

a few days before the attack of a potential operation of the Hamas encirclement, according to this media.

On top of that, the Israeli Prime Minister's Cabinet has denied this information.

This is therefore, to date, an information to learn with tweezers.

So these elements therefore allow us to understand in part at least

why the Israeli intelligence has not seen the Hamas attack.

There is also another thing to take into account,

that the Israeli soldiers have also had the trouble to counter it once this attack and its massacres began.

First, to protect themselves, Israel counts a lot on its iron dome.

Its iron dome is an anti-missile defense system that allows to destroy projectiles, short- and medium-range projectiles, and therefore typically rockets that could come from the Gaza Strip.

And indeed, this iron dome has allowed it to stop some projectiles,

but it is no longer unfaithful,

especially when the Hamas sends a very important number of rockets,

so it is visible what happened this Saturday.

By the way, once the attack was launched,

the army and the Israeli forces had time to react,

already because the Israeli army had been, for several months,

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour focused more on the six Jordanian armies.

The six Jordanian armies, so it is a Palestinian territory occupied by Israel, I'm talking about it in an instant.

By the way, according to David Kalfa, who is a specialist in the subject interviewed by France 24, Israel was waiting for a potential attack coming from the north, coming from Lebanon, coming from Gaza.

The Israeli army was late to finally join the border with Gaza, and so it was something that had been reproached by the Israeli government.

So, what is the reaction of the Israeli society and why Benjamin Netanyahu is so criticized?

Well, you have to understand that this attack intervened in an important moment in Israel.

In fact, the government of Prime Minister Netanyahu wishes to set up a very controversial reform of the judicial system.

We had talked about it in the actions of the day, I put links in the description for a little more.

But so, for the context, you have to know that Israel faced this attack before the Hamas, had important demonstrations.

There were thousands of reservists, so people engaged in the army, but who were not military, had, by the way, planned in July, that he ceased to volunteer to protest against this reform.

So there is already a context that was quite unstable, and we can use this term in Israel.

Moreover, in addition to this judicial reform, the government, composed of elected and political leaders of the extreme right of Benjamin Netanyahu, is also very criticized.

We will have the opportunity to talk about it, but his position, in particular, of Palestine and this question has been seen by some as a position that did not favor the search for a peace and the search for an agreement between Palestinians and Israelis.

For example, perhaps the most remarkable is the question of the Jordanian Six.

The Jordanian Six, I have just said it, is a Palestinian territory, but which is progressively colonized by Israelis.

A colonization, which is assumed, by the Israeli government,

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour

but which is illegal, according to the international law,
and well, above that,

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu
declared, at several occasions,
that he wanted to encourage the colonization
of the Jordanian Six.

These last few months,
which had also denounced the United States,
in particular.

In short, these are positions that, for some,
and besides the question of the attack by Hamas on Saturday,
are not proper conditions for the installation of a peace if we can use these terms.

So, for the moment,
a government of the national emergency union
with its opposing principles
was formed this Thursday in Israel.

It should last until the end of the conflict,
but once the conflict is over,
how long will it last?

In short, since we're talking about Israeli policy,
it's interesting to have and important to have these elements of context.

I'll put the links in the description,
I wanted to know more.

And on the way, before moving on to the news,
in short, with Blanche today,

I'm going to give you some information
quickly about the subject and the situation
in Israel and Gaza.

First news, Emmanuel Macron expressed
this Thursday at 8 p.m.

after saying that France shared
the chagrin of Israel.

He said that nothing can justify terrorism
and that, I quote,
he can't have a yes, but.

Emmanuel Macron recalled the position
of France in relation to Hamas,
explaining that it was a terrorist movement.

He also said, I quote,
those who confuse the Palestinian cause
and the justification of terrorism

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour commit a moral, political and strategic fault.

By the way, Emmanuel Macron said,
I quote, that according to him,
it's not a war between the Israelis and the Palestinians.
It's a war led by terrorists
against a nation, a country,
a society of democratic values.
Finally, the president announced that 13 French people had been killed
since Saturday in Israel and that 17 French people had always been disappeared. He announced a little earlier in the day that there were 4 French children
among those people who had disappeared.
He also said that the Republic would continue to ensure the security of the French
of the Jewish Confession,
while General Darmanin, the Minister of the Interior,
announced that more than 100 acts of anti-Semite
had been resourced in France since Saturday.
It's mostly tags and Nazi crosses.
Moreover, several people wearing white weapons
at the entrance of schools
or in synagogues were arrested.
Second important information.
The Gaza strip will be deprived of water,
electricity and fuel
coming from Israeli canals
as long as the hostages will not be released.
That's what the Israeli Minister of Energy,
Israel 4 announced.
He referred to around 150
Israelis and foreigners
who were taken hostage by Hamas
according to the Israeli government.
As a reminder, yesterday we talked about this seat
and, in particular, its cuts of water, electricity
and gas have been denounced by the United Nations organization
who estimates it to be contrary
to international human rights.
It is also a seat that has been denounced by many NGOs on the field.

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour

NGOs describe an extremely urgent situation for overpopulated populations with an extremely important humanitarian risk. Third information that we can now note the Minister of Interior, Gérald Armanin, also ordered this Thursday the systematic interdiction of pro-Palestinian demonstrations in France as well as the interpellation of participants. A decision that made a reaction to a certain number of political officials that we will have the opportunity to talk about tomorrow. Knowing that in all cases, some demonstrations are still held in several cities in France, in Paris, the Republic, where free-Palestinian words have been inscribed on the status of the Republic. I allow myself to say it every time but to see our video on the historical context of this conflict. I send you back to our video on the subject that we posted more than two years ago, but which is still relevant. You tap Hugo Descriptes, Israel, Palestine on YouTube. You will be able to find it. I leave you with Blanche for the news. I'll be back right after. Thank you Hugo and hello everyone. We start with this act. More than 200 demonstrations are planned in all of France on Friday to protest against austerity, wages and women's equality. We are at the point of the sectors concerned by this conflict. Some college or high school teachers will be absent on Monday but we don't know yet how many times I turn these actions. The doctors are also on strike to denounce the prices of the consultations judged too low or the current health system. Note that the doctors ask the doctors

to be on strike for an unlimited time.

On the transport side, the TGV will not be impacted unlike the TR, Transilien and Intercité according to the SNCF.

The RATP in Paris has announced that there will be no disturbances.

Second act, the law is not respected concerning the science of education in the affective, relational and sexual life in France according to the Baromètre of the Foundation des Apprentis d'Auteuil published this Thursday.

Normally, at least three sciences must be available each year for all students from primary to high school but according to this Baromètre 25% of young people who have been on strike between 16 and 20 years old have never been received during their school years only 44% have been received three or more.

The Foundation is also concerned about the risk that young people use other means to learn more about sexuality such as social networks but also porn sites.

42% of boys and 29% of girls insist on watching porn to learn more about sex according to the study.

Third act, the investigation for violence, sexual assault and corruption of minors against the YouTuber Norman Tavo has been classified following this Wednesday.

This woman had filed a complaint against the YouTuber.

Among them, five accused of rape including two who were minors at the time of the incident.

According to the Justice

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour nothing proves an absence of consent.

I quote

the pre-aligned encounters were systematically sentimental
and the most often sexualized
and without ambiguity.

According to Norman
the exchanges were reciprocated
and the reports were consented.

So it does not mean that he is innocent by the Justice
simply that he does not have enough evidence.

The Justice can completely decide to reopen the file
if new evidence ever appears.

Last act,
the mayor of Lille has made the decision
to ban cyclists
and scooter drivers
from riding in the city center.

It will now be necessary
to put feet on the ground
if we want to cross
with his bike
some areas of Lille.

This ban is applied
every week
from 11 to 22 hours
and concerns
many commercial streets
including the Grand Place.

On the other hand
the two roads of the municipal police or even distributors of Collie
are not concerned
by this obligation.

Some ecologists
from the city
have criticized this decision
which I quote
as a time to de-favorize
a transport mode

[Transcript] Les actus du jour - Hugo Décrypte / Comment le Hamas a surpris les services secrets israéliens, discours de Macron... Actus du jour

yet virtuous criticizing
in particular
the choice
of interdiction errors.
