

[Transcript] Les Grosses Têtes / MOMENT CULTE - Quand Christine Bravo rencontrait le pape

With your choice of select sandwich, nugs, fries, and a drink, Wendy's $5 Biggie Bag is your go-to.
Your Nugget Wingman.
Your hot and crispy fried co-pilot.
Just like us.
We're like the bag boys.
What?
Bag boys, bag boys.
What you gonna do?
What you gonna do when we bring your food?
For a deal you can count on, bet on Biggie and choose wisely.
Choose Wendy's.
Bag boys, bag boys.
U.S. price and participation may vary.
Includes choice of JVC or crispy chicken sandwich with four-piece nugs, junior fry, and small soft drink.
Third-party delivery pricing may be higher.
Vosgedila, he was really nice.
I remember I was going to see him in Lyon.
You were going to see the Pope in Lyon?
Yeah, yeah.
For the morning of Paris.
Yeah, yeah, it's old.
And so we were in a circle, a moment with young people,
young journalists, and he asks us to introduce ourselves.
Christine, journalist.
Nana, we turn around and when we get to him, he says,
Vosgedila, Pope.
You're really funny.
Yeah, he's an extraordinary guy, with an extraordinary charisma.
He made me cry, I swear.
But why did he make you cry?
No, no, he made me cry when he made his mess in Lyon.
His way of...
You asked me a question, you're kidding me.
When you answer it.
No, no, listen.
In any case, he learned from the good old age,
the respect, the politeness,
the patience.
He was good, this Pope.