

[Transcript] Les Grosses Têtes / PÉPITE - L'éducation selon Valérie Trierweiler et Jean-Marie Bigard

A podiatrist will tell you about your feet.
An orthopedist will tell you about your bones.
A physical therapist will analyze your gait.
A psychologist will help you manage your anxiety.
But what if they're all connected?
What if your walk affects your hip alignment
and the loss of movement affects your mental health?
At Kaiser Permanente,
we know the body is connected in unseen ways.
That's why our doctors work together to care for all that is you.
Kaiser Permanente, for all that is you.

Your children...
My wife is a morpher.
You tell her to go to your room.
A little bit, yes.
Yes, yes.
She said the same thing to François.
And you, Jean-Marie, your children, how do you say it?
No, no, I'm a little bit of a firm-hearted person.
How do you say when, for example, your children say a big word?
He says it here?
No, it's not as bad as the police.
He says it here?
When your child says to me,
Dad, why do you say big words?
I said, that's how I bought the house, little moron!
