Okay, I know, I know, I know, you're wondering where NewsAgent's USA is in all its glory. The reason we're not recording today, Tuesday, is that we're going to be recording on Thursday morning, after we've had the first Republican televised debate where all the candidates brackets, except Donald Trump, close brackets, will be participating on stage trying to land a knockout blow and propel their campaign forward. So full episode on Thursday. Hope you can join us then. We'll see you for a full analysis of what has happened in Milwaukee. This has been a Global Player Original podcast and a Persephoneka production.
